

THE FUTURE IS BRIGHT

Procor employs mechanics, welders, operators and technicians to support its repair operations.

Steady growth is expected for tank car repair services, offering both job stability and new job opportunities.

Major contributing factors are unprecedented volumes of government and industry mandated scheduled maintenance, as a result of past car building trends within the industry, and record levels of new cars entering service, particularly in western Canada.

